

Double Your LGEF Contribution through Corporate Matching Gifts

Did you know that a number of companies match their employees' contributions to nonprofit organizations, including schools?

Over the past two years, the following companies have matched employee gifts to LGEF through their matching gifts program. If your company is on this list, please consider doubling the value of your gift through your employer's matching gifts program.

If you do not see your company on this list, please contact your HR department at your place of business and ask them to include LGEF in their Matching Gifts program.
